Transforming Supervision for the Behavioral Health Workforce: A Certificate Program

Supports supervisors across the behavioral health field in rural Maine in honing and developing the skills needed to be effective supervisors. Through a combination of interactive workshops, didactic lectures, and self-paced work, participants will gain valuable skills to balance the administrative and supportive or clinical aspects of supervision.

- Develop the skills and knowledge of supervisors
- Create networks of support for supervisors
- Prepare first-time and early-career supervisors for supervisory roles
- Develop supervisors' ability to create dynamic, motivating team environments
